TYNET e-News

Dear Members, Partners and Friends,

Our creativity and optimism must not be dampened by the undeniable heat and humidity coming to us this summer. We will need it to save energy in our cities; this is of course of particular urgency throughout Japan - still, we are all in this together.

Yokohama City is going full force to reduce its energy by 15%. They will do this through large scale reduction of air conditioner usage, shifting office lunch times and optimising copy machine performance. Successful practices will be up-scaled to all city ward offices.

Save Energy Challenge -Summer 2011

Yokohama and the CITYNET Secretariat challenge all members to also reduce their energy by 15% or more. Saved energy translates into saved precious resources such as water, food and a reduced carbon footprint.

Looking for inspiration? We put together a few practical resources to help you along the way. Your hard work deserves attention. Share with us your city's success stories in energy-saving. Let's think and act together to save energy!

Best wishes, CITYNET Secretariat

The Great East Japan Disaster Update

Almost four months have passed since the numerous disasters in Japan on 3/11. CITYNET would like to thank all those who contributed support. The City of Yokohama reported receiving donations and letters from around the world. Thanks to CITYNET members who donated through their local Red Cross or Japanese Embassy.

As of 17 May, Yokohama collected approximately 385 million yen (ca. 4, 799, 120 USD). 300 million yen was sent to the Japanese Red Cross Forming and strengthening partnerships as well as the building of awareness were central to the fruitful outcomes of CITYNET's participation at the 5th Asia-Pacific Urban Forum (APUF) organised by UNESCAP in Bangkok on 20-25 June 2011. "Cities of Opportunity: Partnerships for an Inclusive and Sustainable Future" was the focus of this key event where CITYNET members and partners took the opportunity to network, share and most importantly develop practical solutions. CITYNET brought more than 60 participants to APUF which UNESCAP coordinates every four years (the 4th APUF was organised in conjunction with the 2005 CITYNET Congress in Hanoi).

Over 700 delegates from national and local governments, academia, private sector and civil society participated in a wide range of innovative and interactive events such as an urban planning café and webcast plenary sessions allowing a wider audience to watch and ask questions via Twitter. There was a call for more decisive actions, and more practical tools and programmes to support initiatives.

The Forum was opened by Professor Dr. Her Royal Highness Princess Chulabhorn Mahidol of Thailand who reminded delegates of the urgency for a green economy. United Nations Under-Secretary-General and Executive Secretary of ESCAP Dr. Noeleen Heyzer, stressed the need to take a fresh look at how cities are managed. "The frequency and intensity of climate-related disasters will increase. We simply do not have the luxury of growing first and cleaning up later," said Heyzer.

CITYNET is pleased to announce the signing of Memorandum of Agreements with CDIA on capacity building and also with ACHR on a community-housing and livelihood improvement programme. The signing of the Bangkok Declaration for generosity, Yokohama Mayor Fumiko Hayashi was able to make a donation directly to Mayor Okuyama of Sendai which was severely affected by the disaster.

As the process of rebuilding is only just beginning, the City of Yokohama has extended the donation period to 15 September 2011. Find out more here.

CITYNET Programme Director, Bernadia Tjandradewi joined Somsook Boonyabancha, Diane Archer of ACHR and Kirtee Shah of ASAG, both associate members of CITYNET on a visit to Seoul on their mission towards a more people-friendly Seoul.

A team from CITYNET Secretariat, ACHR (Asian Coalition for Housing Rights) and ASAG (Ahmedabad Study Action Group) visited Seoul from 1 - 3 June 2011 based on an initial indication of support for mutual goals from the Seoul Metropolitan Government (SMG) to further promote a more 'people-friendly' city. The mission of the visit was to secure commitment of the city government and various key players to take concrete steps to improve the living conditions for some of the poorer settlements. It is hoped that this plan can be achieved within the next few years and be an important milestone as the CITYNET Secretariat prepares to relocate to Seoul in 2013. According to a survey by NGO Asian Bridge, there are more than 38 vinyl-house communities scattered throughout the Seoul area. Note: vinyl-housing settlements refer to communities squatting in empty vinyl greenhouses or those who have built new houses between existing farming-vinyl greenhouses. >> Read more here.

CITYNET Youth Japan

CITYNET Youth Japan hosted a workshop regarding poverty and fair trade at a high school in Yokohama on 29 June 2011. Students were shown a video on the difficult working conditions some workers at multi-national companies in developing countries face. Students shared creative opinions, and what they can do to prevent such exploitation of labour. At the end of the discussion, students were given fair-trade dried mangos, so that they could become more aware of where their food comes from. This workshop helped students to understand the work done by many groups towards fair standards of labour and will hopefully inspire them to take action.
